

Cavanaugh, Wife Found Not Guilty

John W. Cavanaugh and his wife, Catherine, were found not guilty of child desertion today by Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose, after a trial lasting less than 3 hours.

The young couple were arrested Dec. 12 in El Paso, Texas, on a complaint signed by Mrs. Katie Bagley, 1968 Lomita boulevard, Lomita, charging them with abandoning their three children, Eleanor, 5, John, 4, and Thomas, 2.

Mrs. Bagley, Mrs. Cavanaugh's mother, told police that her daughter and son-in-law left Los Angeles Oct. 24 without the children and neglected to tell her where they were going or when they would be back.

On the witness stand today, Cavanaugh testified he was unable to find work or a place to live in Los Angeles and had left for that reason. He maintained that he intended to send for the children as soon as he was situated.

"My father-in-law told me several times that I could leave the children with him if I wanted to leave town and look for work.

"I took that as a hint to get out of his house," the husband and father said. Cavanaugh said partial paralysis of one hand made it difficult for him to obtain a job.

Y.M.C.A. In Torrance Undertakes Membership Enrollment This Month

The Torrance Y.M.C.A. is conducting its first membership enrollment between February 15 and February 28. In order to better acquaint residents with the purpose of the "Y" and its program, the following interpretation on "What is a Member" has been prepared by the "Y" board.

"The Y.M.C.A. is an association of members; it is not just an institution. It is true that some Y.M.C.A.s have a physical plant and in that respect they are institutions, but the underlying factor is the countless lay-people of the association who form the structure of the Y.M.C.A. movement.

"The Y.M.C.A. is a society motivated by the ideals of Christ, it is not a credo body as are our churches, but basically Christian in profession, the feeling being that if folks live the Christian way of cooperation, helpful to others, all will live a happier and fuller life. As Theodore Roosevelt expressed, "It is a blending together of Christian idealism and common sense." The Y.M.C.A. propagates and extends its ideals by enlisting the help of interested individuals of the community who are invited to become members.

"There are many types of membership, depending on the equipment and the needs of the community. An enrollment campaign enables folks to stand up
